COLUMBIA, Aug. 17.—The platform adopted by the [illegible] Democratic Convention declares the acceptance in good faith of the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution; adopts the St. Louis [illegible]; demands thorough and genuine reform in the State government; arraigns the leaders of the Republican party for bringing race against race, holding fraudulent elections, mismanagement of finances, hopelessly involving the state in debt, and for unparalleled venality and corruption. It calls upon all citizens, irrespective of race or party, to join in restoring the good name of the State and [illegible]. We discountenance all disturbances of the peace of the State and denounce all instigators and promoters thereof, and earnestly call upon all our fellow citizens, irrespective of party lines, to [illegible] forbearance and cultivate good will, and if the government of the State is committed to our control, we pledge ourselves to protect the persons, rights and property of all its people and to speedily bring to summary justice any who dare violate them. We desire fair peaceable elections, appealing to the reason and not the passion of the people, and we demand of the Republican party a fair show in the appointment of commissioners of election. We demand a fair election and a fair count.

[illegible] Independents in Convention

[illegible]APOLIS, Ind., Aug. 17.—The Independent State Convention to fill vacancies on State ticket met to-day, 300 of 400 delegates present. No confidence can be placed in the old political parties, which have been steeped in corruption and complicated with dishonesty. After adopting the resolutions and a vote upon the nominations presented for [illegible] on the State ticket, Samuel F. Cary and other gents of greenback tendencies addressed the convention.

WASHINGTON CITY

Washington City Dull

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—This city has [illegible] Senators and Representatives have been dropping out [illegible] for weeks [illegible] their trunks packed and their railroad tickets bought [illegible] the first train [illegible]. It it were not for the hundreds of Centennial visitors who were in the city the streets would be as quiet to-day as they usually are in summer.

A Question of Economy

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The Congressional Record this morning contains reports of the entire proceedings of both houses of Congress up to the hour of adjournment. Aside from the question whether it is more economical to publish the debates by the government printing office or by private contract, it is universally admitted that the work can be done much more correctly and promptly by [illegible] the former of these two plans [illegible] than while the latter obtained. As the end of the session drew near and the Senate and House sat late, the reports were more and more behindhand, until instead of printing the proceedings of the day session it was struggling with reports a week old. Since the work has been done at the government printing office, the entire proceedings of the day previous were always printed the next morning, unless a member has withheld his remarks for revision, even when the session has been prolonged until midnight. It may be that the government can get it done cheaper by private contract, but it cannot be done as satisfactorily in that way.

Reducing the Clerks

The Times Washington special says the secretary of the treasury, in reducing the forces in his department, is seeking to obtain the voluntary resignation of those clerks who are willing. He says to all who will resign after the 25th of this month that they shall be paid to the 11th of October, the time when a general discharge of clerks is to be made. Several clerks resigned to-day and it is thought there will be a hundred resignations. There are a good many young men in the department who desire to leave and seek business where there is a prospect of permanent employment and prospective promotions. This advance will allow him to go away with a small margin to cover temporary expenses. The same course was pursued last year with advantage to both clerks and officers of the department. There will be reductions of about 600 in the Treasury Department, which Morrill says will be a hard blow to poor clerks also, who will for the most part be left on the point of starvation. When Randall's guillotine falls on the 10th of October 500 employes upon whose labor the living of themselves and family depend will be like the same number of factory operatives when a great mill has burned down. Suffering will be terrible, the more so as no real exigencies of the Government require it. Officers of the departments are taking every pains to render the calamity as light as possible, but it cannot be mitigated very much.

Combination Against Morton.

The Sun's Washington special says a strong combination is being formed against Morton, who it now appears was most influential in getting Orth off the State ticket in Indiana. Morton's strength is waning fast and his only followers are those who constantly eulogize him.

Chinese Commission Broken Up.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A special says the Chinese commission was broken up through leaving Kasson off the commission after he and the California representative members had been given to understand that he should be on it. Kasson's bitter speech against Tilden is assumed generally to be the reason for Sayler's action. So much hard feeling has developed that Wilson of Iowa, who was appointed in Kasson's stead, has refused to accept, and Mead says he will not go out to California under the present state of affairs. As there is no authority to supply places the commission must go as a broken one if it goes at all.

2,500 Recruits Wanted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Orders have been issued from the war department for recruiting 2,500 additional men for cavalry regiments. The principal recruiting stations are at St. Louis, Chicago, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Boston and New York. Branch offices are to be opened in several Western cities to secure the recruits as soon as possible.

Political Complexion of the New Senate.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent figures up the probable standing of the Senate under the new administration. He concludes that of the Senators holding over from the 4th of next March 27 are Republicans, 19 Democrats and one Independent (Booth). There are two vacancies, one from West Virginia and one from Louisiana. Adding Senators already elected for the term beginning 4th of March next, the Senate stands 30 Republicans, 23 Democrats and one Independent. Counting Colorado there are 22 Senators yet to be chosen, dependent on elections coming off in the fall. In order to secure a majority of one the Democracy must elect 16 of these 22, and they have the following States to select from: Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Delaware, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, two from West Virginia, two from Illinois, Michigan, Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Oregon and Colorado. It will be thus seen that it is almost certain that the Republicans will control the Senate for the first two years of the new administration, but by a very slim majority.

Decisions of the Commissioner of the Land Office.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The following are taken from Copp's Land Owner for August: The portion of mining claims sold to an alien cannot be patented while such owner is an alien, but on his declaration to become a citizen his right dates back to his purchase, and he may thereupon secure a U. S. patent for his claim.

Regular army officers who served during the rebellion may initiate homestead entry while in the army, but on making final proof must show at least one year's residence on the land entered, if they served four years during the late war.

Prairie lands, or lands not prairie but naturally devoid of timber, are subject to the operation of the timber culture laws. Where a party applies to enter under the timber culture laws land which appears on the township plat as already timbered, and is informed that he must disprove such apparent character, this application reserves the mentioned tracts for a reasonable time from future disposition.

Efforts in Behalf of Whisky Convicts.

The Tribune's Washington special says a great pressure was brought to bear on the President and Attorney General yesterday and to-day in behalf of the St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee whisky convicts. The President has declared, however, he would make no pardon unless recommended by the Attorney General, who has not yet made such recommendation. In any case, though extraordinary exertions have been made to secure his favorable action before the President leaves for Long Branch, [illegible] friends expect a definite decision to-morrow.

A Lucky Clerk

A clerk in the office of the Comptroller of Currency sails for England to take possession of a fortune of several millions which has been left to his family by some relative. The title to it has been decided by the English courts after two years of litigation.

Efforts to Prevent Election Frauds.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The Attorney General's office is adopting measures to enforce strictly all the provisions of the national election laws, not only in the South but elsewhere. [illegible] are to be exercised, it is said, in the election of supervisors of elections, and instructions will be issued for the guidance of all U. S. [illegible]. In a few days prosecutions will be commenced against persons in Alabama who are accused of having perpetrated frauds in that state [illegible]. [illegible] voters. Special counsel have already been appointed to assist in the work. [illegible]

Determined to Fight It out

BELGRADE, Aug. [illegible].—A dispatch to the Standard says a war manifesto will be issued by Prince Milan to-day, declaring that Servia and Montenegro will fight together to the [illegible].

The Turks Defeated, Routed and Slaughtered

The [illegible] correspondent announces that the report of a severe defeat to the Turks at K[illegible] is confirmed. According to the Montenegrin account, Mehemet Pasha, with 20,000 men, advanced into Kaunics of Kuci, when his army was attacked on all sides and routed, and pursued by the Montenegrins from Medun to Podgoritza, where the Turks were protected by their artillery. The Montenegrins estimate the Turkish loss at 8,000. No doubt this is the greatest disaster of the war.

Reform Commission

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Turkish minister here has received the following from the minister of foreign affairs at Constantinople: A commission composed of several ministers and high functionaries, Mussulmen and Christians, has been established to elaborate a programme of reform according to Imperial decree communicated to you by dispatch of June 7th. The Imperial government has decided to open a new inquiry concerning excesses attributed to Turkish troops in Bulgaria and will communicate to you the result of the inquiry.

Turkish War News

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Standard's special from Belgrade says: It is reported that the Turks have occupied Petrowatz and Metrovitza, in Northwestern Servia. These towns are respectively south and north of Bulovenze. The headquarters of General Olimpics, the Servian commander, was thus outflanked and was obliged to evacuate Bulovenze. It is reported that he will be superseded by General Kalodorati.

A Russian telegram from Alexandria, Egypt, to the Standard says reinforcements are leaving for Abyssinia.

War Manifesto Suppressed.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Standard's Belgrade special states that the war manifesto which was expected from Prince Milan on Wednesday or Thursday has been suppressed. It is reported that at a meeting of the council of ministers and the committee of the Skuptschina on Wednesday it was decided that a loan of 2,000,000 ducats should be issued in Russia.

It is believed that very bad news has been received from Banja. The details are not known, but it may be considered certain that the Turkish plan of campaign is successful, and that unless Russia interferes the war will be terminated before many days.

Strength of the Russian Army.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—In reply to a speech made in the English House of Commons to the effect that Russia was stronger in 1853 than now, Golos shows that Russia in 1853 had an army of 600,000 men, and now 1,340,000 as a peace armament, with 2,500,000 in times of war.

Ordered to Leave.

BELGRADE, Aug. 17.—Correspondents who are unfriendly to Servia have been ordered to leave the country.

Wagner Musical Festival.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Tribune's Bayreuth special says of the first series of Wagner's performances: The ring of the Nebulungen closed to-night with the last drama, Grother Drammerung, or Twilight of Gold. There was a scene of the greatest excitement. These representations have steadily increased in merit and excellence since the opening. The result is admitted to be a most remarkable triumph. Herr Wagner was called out to-night at the close of the act amid great enthusiasm and made a short address.

LATER.—Aug. 17.—The representation of the Ring of the Nebulunger was completed to-night with the Gotterdammerung. The conclusion was grandly tragic and majestic. Anti-Wagnerites refuse to admit that they find much melody, but acknowledge that the Nebulunger Trilogy is the greatest work of the composer. They consider that Herr Wagner has given predominance to the dramatic over the lyric element. Some acts were wearisome, but it is admitted that the Nebulunger will be given to future generations as a work of the highest dramatical musical character. There was much enthusiasm. At the close of the opera Wagner returned thanks to the audience. A banquet will be given to the patrons to-morrow night, at which Herr Wagner will make a speech.

Commerce between Canada and Australia.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—A meeting of the board of trade was held to-day to consider the propriety of opening up commercial relations between Canada and Australia. The Hon. Mr. Morris, Centennial Commissioner from New South Wales, addressed the meeting and answered numerous questions. He said Australia's imports reached $90,000,000; exports $[illegible]. A number of articles he mentioned are 40 to 100 per cent. cheaper in Canada than in Australia, and as the latter is a free trade country a brisk trade could be carried on. It was suggested that a ship be chartered immediately and freighted with various sample goods, and a return cargo of wool could be obtained.

The formation of a company of infantry has been authorized at Killman, Manitoba, and two drill [illegible] with ammunition etc. for frontier service in case of disturbance will be sent immediately to Winnipeg.

MYSTERY OF DREAMS.—It is related that a man fell asleep as the clock tolled the first stroke of twelve. He awakened ere the [illegible] of the twelfth stroke had died away, having in the interval dreamed that he had committed a crime, was detected after five years, tried and condemned; the shock of finding the halter about his neck aroused him to consciousness, when he discovered that all these events had happened in an infinitesimal fragment of time. Mohammed, [illegible] ... a certain man being [illegible] and how, upon waking up from this [illegible] dream, [illegible] at a time [illegible] the water [illegible] he knew he overturned as he fell asleep [illegible]. I had great difficulty, sir, in keeping him from examining me."

A trout caught by a Salemite the other day has an upper jaw hooked like a hawk's bill, and the under jaw an inch longer than the upper. The great naturalists of the Capital are bothering their brains about it. Perhaps its lower jaw was broken.

Sufficient means have been secured in Yamhill county and the company organized under the title of the Peoples' Protective Transportation Company, with Hon. Henry Warren president and [illegible] Cooper secretary. A contract has been entered into with Messrs. Mullins & Lents, of Oregon City, for the immediate construction of a steamboat 130 feet in length, [illegible] feet beam and [illegible] feet hold, for the sum of $8,500, to be completed by the 11th of October.

We are in receipt of the first number of the A[illegible], a weekly newspaper issued at Harrisburg, Linn county, by the Harrisburg Publishing Co., and edited by O. F. Porter. It is well gotten up typographically and filled with editorial and news matter arranged in an interesting style. It also contains a map of a proposed new county to be formed out of a portion of Linn. If future numbers are as good as the first the [illegible] will deserve a good local support.

Dr. Conlan, who formerly lived at Jacksonville in this State, is reported to have been lynched at Adin, Modoc county, California. The circumstances are said to have been about as follows: Conlan had been bothering [illegible], also formerly of Jacksonville, all day, endeavoring to make a fuss with him, and finally chased him down the street with a pistol. A young man lately from Colusa county, and who had been married but two weeks, interfered to prevent Conlan shooting, when Conlan took aim at him and shot him, the ball entering his forehead between the eyes and killing him instantly. The citizens of Adin, who witnessed the affair, enraged beyond endurance by the previous actions of Conlan and the subsequent murder of an estimable young man, now rose in a body, captured Conlan, took him to a tree and hung him.

The Enterprise says: One of our Oregon City mill proprietors has been making the tour of the valley, and from the general tenor of advices received, together with his own observations in the matter, he is led to conclude with regard to crop prospects for wheat in the valley as follows: Winter wheat will invariably be a light yield per acre. The east side will average one fourth less than the crop of last year, making a shortage of 12,000 tons; the crops being one third short in Linn and on the flat lands of Marion county. The west side, while winter wheat is light, will, notwithstanding, make an average yield, as spring wheat is better than usual from Washington to Benton. Yamhill will exceed her best harvest for years. The general summary of the situation is that while the Willamette valley is short 12,000 tons on last year's harvest average, this deficiency will be made up from the increased acreage of Umpqua valley and the extraordinary yield of the Walla Walla valley, so that the Columbia river will bear on its bosom for the world's commerce an amount of grain shipment equal to last year's surplusage—say 10[illegible]000 tons, or three and one-half million bushels of wheat, providing the farmers will sell it all, which, under the low prices ruling, is very doubtful. Taking it all in all, it can hardly be expected that Oregon will ship over 80,000 tons unless wheat averages above $1 50 per cental in Portland.

THE TERRITORIES

The Idaho farmers are short of harvest hands.

Native silver in a splendid large body of ore has been struck in the Custer [illegible] district, Idaho. The ore improves as depth is attained, as the different streaks meet each other; the richness increases.

Sheriff Agnew, of Ada county, Idaho, shot and killed an escaping prisoner named Stock near Boise City on the 9th. He was taking Stock from California to Idaho. Stock committed a murder in Boise county ten years ago and escaped.

The Idaho Avalanche says grim visages of approaching winter have already begun to waylay the people of Silver City. On the 5th of August it snowed at a lively rate. The question arises whether it was the last snow of the past or the first of next winter.

The assignees will sell the whole of the property known as the South Mountain Consolidated Mining Company of Idaho on the 4th of September. The sale will take place in San Francisco. The property consists of 22 quartz leads, with all the improvements, mills, lumber, apparatus, etc.

The mining news from Idaho is not generally very flattering, but some of the mines are doing well. The Avalanche says the Belle Peck mine is yielding rock worth $100 per ton, and a good deal of it. The Potosi is looking better every day. The Golden Age is turning out some of the richest rock ever seen in the camp. The Golden Chariot is expected to pay up on the 25th. The developments in the Poorman are unusually satisfactory. The Cas[illegible] mine is increasing in size rapidly and ore very rich in silver. An eight inch vein has been struck in the Stoddard that is [illegible] for $100 per ton in gold and silver. Since the suspension of work on the Ida Elmore six weeks [illegible] has been done, though it [illegible] the best paying mines in the Territory.

Says the Cheyenne Sun: A new and singular version of the circumstances which led to the massacre of Custer's brave command comes from [illegible], the story related by a [illegible] of the [illegible] infantry. [illegible] Cross. The scout with the guides [illegible] were all who escaped from the massacre. It is said that Cross was sent [illegible] to reconnoiter by Custer the night before the battle, and that he returned in the morning and reported the Indian village was small and that it offered an easy victory. Then follows the treacherous charge and the dreadful massacre. The Indians were informed of Custer's intentions and had made every preparation to give him a warm reception. Everything was done to [illegible] the [illegible] which the Indians could pick off the [illegible] [illegible]

Proposition to Suppress Hoodlumism.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Between fifty and sixty citizens residing in the southwestern part of the city, where hoodlums have been raiding of late, propose to apply to the Police Commissioners for permission to carry special police stars and arms. If permission is granted they guarantee they will suppress hoodlumism in that section of the city in a very short time.

Indian War in Mexico.

A dispatch received yesterday afternoon by Don Miguel G. Pritchard, Mexican Consul in this city, announces that the Indians of Lower California and the tribes along the Colorado river have united and are making war against the Mexican settlements. The dispatch is dated Tijuana, Aug. 16th, a point nine miles from San Diego, and is signed by Don J. M. Villagrana, Governor of the Territory. The Governor has requested Consul Pritchard to telegraph immediately to the authorities at the City of Mexico, informing them of the condition of affairs and of the necessity of quickly quelling the insurgents. The request was complied with. Villagrana was about to depart for San Diego with the hope of purchasing such firearms and ammunition as he could procure. He had sufficient force and munitions of war to hold in subjection the bandits and robbers on the frontier, but was unprepared for a general uprising and hostile movement of the Indians infesting the Territory. His position at latest accounts was critical.

Billiard Match.

Sexton and Kraker, the California billiard champion, played another game of 200 points, French carom, for $100 a side, Sexton discounting his opponent. At the close the game stood Kraker 200, Sexton 79.

Poisoned.

Autopsies on the bodies of the man and woman who dropped dead together last night, on Howard street, show both to have died from the effects of some corrosive poison.

Steamer Disabled.

A private dispatch reports the steamer Montana, plying between here and Mexican ports, at Piedros Blancos, about 140 miles south of this port, with a broken shaft. A powerful tug will be dispatched at once to her assistance. She is thought to be in no danger.

Smallpox on Board Ship.

The ship Commonwealth, which was found to have smallpox on board, was to-day towed over to Saucelito, where she is undergoing disinfection. The sick on board will be removed to a pest house to-morrow. The schooner Stranger, which left here for a coast trip yesterday, returned to-day, smallpox having broken out on board. Those taken down have been removed to hospital.

Caledonia Mining Co.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—At the annual meeting of the Caledonia Mining Co. yesterday the election resulted in the re-election of the old officers. The receipts for the year were $30[illegible]000, including $280,000 for new stock. Assets $7[illegible], against which there are current liabilities amounting to about $10,000.

Mining Suit.

In the mining suit of George W. Kinney against Consolidated Virginia and California Mining Co's, J. C. Flood and Sol. Heydenfeldt admit that Kinney in 1872 was owner of an undivided 101½ feet of Kinney and Welton ground on the Comstock lode, but deny that he owned the other mining property set out, and add that when Heydenfeldt sold all Kinney's interest to Flood he did so by written and telegraphed instructions from the plaintiff, which documents are incorporated in the answer.

Suicide.

Charles Talbot, of the firm of Talbot & Sontag, contractors, having their office at 430 Kearney street, committed suicide this evening in his bed room in the same building as his office. He took at first a quantity of [illegible] poison, which proved ineffectual, when he resorted to strychnine, which accomplished his purpose. The suicide seems to have been induced by business difficulties, as he is reported to be a defaulter in small amounts to several parties for whom he has been collecting. He was a native of Denmark, aged 23.

Meeting of Water Commissioners.

The water commissioners, under Rogers' act, held a secret meeting at the mayor's office to-day. W. V. Clark, owner of the Blue Lakes water right, was present, and the meeting is supposed to have been called for the consideration of a proposition made by him to supply the city with water.

Business Men Gone to Honolulu

A number of prominent business men sailed for Honolulu yesterday, being induced thereto by the news of the final ratification of the Hawaiian treaty.

The China Basin Lease.

The judiciary committee of the board of supervisors held a meeting this afternoon to consider the proposition to lease China Basin to the State. Messrs. Strother and McDonald decided to submit a majority report adverse to the lease. Mr. Gibbs will prepare a minority report favoring the lease.

San Francisco Items.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Four more cases of smallpox are reported at the Roman Catholic orphan asylum this morning, besides five others in various parts of the city. Fears are expressed that the disease may have a serious run at the asylum. Those who were attacked there Tuesday last were separated from the other children, and it was hoped no further cases would occur. The additional outbreak to-day renders it probable that the whole establishment has been exposed of late to the contagion.

The old man who killed himself a few evenings ago on Howard street has been identified as N. T. Ecklund, [illegible] and a member of the St. Andrew's Society.

Vicious Horse Trainer Hurt

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—[illegible] trainer at the Agricultural Park race track, named [illegible], was [illegible] this afternoon. [illegible] His jaw having been broken in two places. He was picked up [illegible], but it is thought he will recover. This is the second trainer who has been thrown by this horse within three weeks.

San Diego Items

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—A shooting affray occurred on Friday at [illegible] between some sheep herders. David Allen received a serious if not fatal wound in the head.

The [illegible] has a letter from [illegible] dated the 11th, giving the details of the finding of the body of a man near Oak Grove on the [illegible]. A coroner's inquest being held, all that was ascertained was that the man was apparently a Frenchman about 40 years old; a bullet hole through the head and four shots through the loins. The body was entirely naked and much swollen. He is supposed to be one of the two seen at Oak Grove on the 6th, the other being a young Mexican, who was afterwards seen with the murdered man's horse, with the saddle empty and a bundle of clothing strapped on it, and had a revolver seen in possession of deceased.

Shooting Scrape.

STOCKTON, Aug. 17.—A shooting scrape occurred in front of the Humboldt saloon on Weber avenue in this city at 8 o'clock this evening between a young man named Fred Willy and another, who was too drunk to give his name. It appears the parties engaged in an altercation in which Willy knocked down and beat his opponent, kicking him in the face. As soon as the young man could rise he drew a pistol and fired two shots in rapid succession, the first shot striking a little boy named Garvin, who was passing by, and inflicting a painful flesh wound in both hips. The second shot struck Willy in the abdomen, barely cutting the skin. The young man who did the shooting gave himself up to the police, who were quickly on the spot, and Willy was captured in about an hour afterwards.

No More Smallpox.

The smallpox has almost entirely disappeared, owing to the vigorous sanitary measures carried out by the city officials and the prompt isolating of all existing cases to prevent the spread of the contagion. No fears of its reappearance are anticipated.

Billiards. Sexton to Discount Kraker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Sexton and Kraker started in this evening on a billiard match of six games of 100 points each, French carom, $100 a game, the former discounting the latter. Thus far each has scored one game, with the betting in favor of Sexton.

UTAH.

Business Part of Ophir Destroyed by Fire

OPHIR, Aug. 17.—About 12.30 last night a fire broke out in the rear of M. H. Lipman's business house at Jacob City, Dry Canon, and destroyed the whole of the business portion of the town before the flames could be got under control. The business places destroyed were M. H. Lipman's grocer, Stangler & Kelly grocers, Osborne's saloon, D. Reese's saloon, Isaac Quinn's store, Noble's restaurant, Selig & Simmon's grocery, Mrs. Moulin's boarding house, Thompson & Jergenson, butchers, Pat Gibbon's saloon, Wm. Balestz' saloon and other buildings, including the Western Union telegraph office. Total loss is estimated at between $30,000 and $35,000. No water being in Dry Canon the losses were entire. No insurance except Lipman and Selig & Simmons.

ORGANS AND THEIR USES

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, a stout advocate of the election of Hayes and Wheeler, is disgusted at the lying done for campaign purposes, especially where there is such an abundance of truth to make a campaign upon, and does up one of the campaign stories about Tilden in the following exceedingly happy style:

The ingenious way in which campaign slanders are manufactured by the regular organs is something monotonous in its way. The Chicago Inter Ocean, for instance, not content with the familiar facts concerning Tilden's unprotesting silence during Tweed's long course of rascality, prior to its discovery and exposure by other parties, demonstrates to its own satisfaction, by a wonderfully cumulative method of reasoning, that Tilden connived at Tweed's escape, and richly rewarded the sheriff of New York for compassing that startling event. How the Inter Ocean reaches this bewildering conclusion is by showing, first, that Tweed made his escape. This nobody can deny. Second, that the sheriff of New York connived at this result. This everybody believes. Third, that Governor Tilden did not even so much as reprimand the sheriff for his complicity in this rascally result. This is equally susceptible of proof. Fourth, that this non-action of Tilden subjects him to the just suspicion of having himself connived at the escape of his old political partner Tweed, and he is hence responsible for that event, and the country must hold him strictly accountable therefor!

The manner in which Tilden rewarded the sheriff of New York for thus securing the liberation of Tweed is demonstrated in an equally clear and comprehensive manner, and is shown to have consisted of the passage of a bill through the New York legislature (and its approval by Tilden) which doubled the already enormous fees of the New York sheriff! "Is not the conclusion reasonable," asks the pious inventor of this abominable libel, "that Tilden's signature to this bill was the price he paid the sheriff for the release of Tweed?"

Of course, the other watchful and hungry organs will immediately avail themselves of this bait and proceed to improve upon it with every concomitant of eager exaggeration. The Albany Journal will say that it always suspected there was some infamous bargain at the bottom of Tilden's approval of this bill, and that now that the cat is out of the bag it can scarcely find words to portray the wickedness of the act. The country journals will then be ready to echo the charge and say with spiteful accord it has been demonstrated upon the most irrefragable documentary proof—in fact, by Tilden's own signature, now on file in the capitol at Albany—that he confessedly aided and abetted the escape of Tweed and openly rewarded the perpetrators of the infamous act. By this time the Washington organs will get hold of the news and begin to blow, and after rehearsing the now fully detailed and categorical slander will conclude by remarking that this is the direct and natural result, forseen and predicted by them when the third term question was being agitated by the papers of the country, and emphasized when the Republican national convention committed the fatal folly of neglecting to continue in office so distinguished a soldier, so profound a statesman and so irreproachable a man as President Ulysses S. Grant. And for this it is that organs are made and ground in this our great Centennial year.

AN ASPIRING COW.—Humphrey Shugrue's cow has become notorious lately for her almost human attempts to climb to the top of Powers & Bort's elevator on the levee by means of the outside stairway that leads to the upper stories of the building. Yesterday she had evidently resolved to go to the top or die in the attempt, for her efforts proved almost fatal, something in this way: About 6 o'clock in the afternoon she began to ascend, and succeeded in reaching the last step but one from the top, and was about to give a bellow of satisfaction, when alas! the steps on which her hind feet rested broke through, and down went her legs through the opening, leaving her body standing in a nearly upright position twenty feet above the ground. A crowd soon gathered, but could do nothing to extricate her, and her own endeavors to free herself caused the spectators to expect every moment to see the stairway fall and dash the venture[illegible], but to their astonishment she with a sudden movement peculiar [illegible] herself freed her limbs and started down with a rush for safety. Ere she reached the bottom of the steps, however, she slipped and fell, [illegible] one of her fore legs, and tore away a considerable portion of the stairway. When she once more landed on terra firma it was found upon examination that she was entirely uninjured, but it was a narrow escape.—[illegible]

[illegible]—[illegible] private theatricals the following extracts from a foreign correspondent's letter will be found interesting: "Of course [illegible] would be the messenger (what amateur ever would?), so at last we had to impress one of the footmen into the service, but the stupid thing, instead of rushing on and shouting 'My lord, [illegible] Archer has been executed with fire and stake in the market place in [illegible],' walked on just as if he were announcing luncheon, and drawled out, 'My lord, Johnnie Dark is [illegible] executed by a steak in the market place in ruins.'"

SITTING BULL A WEST POINTER

From Chicago Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—There has been for some time among army officers here all sorts of discussions about Sitting Bull, the great leader of the Sioux. There are many questions as to his identity. No sketch that has purported to be a history of him has awakened the interest that has been created by an army officer writing to the Baltimore Gazette of to-day. In his sketch this officer claims that Sitting Bull is a renegade graduate of West Point. Upon this subject he says:

Is Sitting Bull a West Point graduate? This question is asked in sober earnest with a view of eliciting information, there being reasons for believing that this formidable warrior and so-called savage, now occupying so much of the public attention from the unquestioned skill and extraordinary courage with which he has met our soldiers, is really a graduate of the military academy. There may be some foundation for the reports as to his reading French and being familiar with the campaigns of the great Napoleon. Graduates of West Point between 1846 and 1850 will remember a new cadet of both singular and remarkable appearance, hailing from the western borders of the Missouri, who reported for duty in 1845, 1846 or 1847. He was above medium hight, apparently between 18 and 20 years old, heavy set frame, long bushy hair growing close to his brow and overhanging his neck and shoulders, and his face covered with thin patches of white frizzy beard. The general get-up of this 'plebe' was such as to cause old cadets to hesitate in their practical jokes usually played off on new cadets.

Nicknames are often applied to cadets that they carry with them among their friends into the army and even to their graves. This fellow's thick neck, broad shoulders, and long bushy hair caused the name of "bison" to be applied to the new comer, and it adhered to him ever afterward. The West Point [illegible] he learned with [illegible], graduating third in his class. He had no disposition to be social, [illegible] to himself, talked but little, and was [illegible] known to either smile or laugh. During the hours of recreation he did not mingle [illegible] classmates, but was often seen in [illegible] walks around the plain or scaling the [illegible] boring mountains even to their very [illegible]. He was often out of his quarters after night, eluding successfully the vigilance of the sentinels and officers, and visiting neighboring villages in quest of strong drink, but was never seen under its influence until he had [illegible]ated. This remarkable character passed his graduating examination creditably, [illegible] his diploma, but before doffing the cadet [illegible], visited the villages of Buttermilk Falls, [illegible] West Point a short distance, got in[illegible] and became involved in a broil, in [illegible] stones and sticks were used freely. [illegible] of the participants were badly hurt, [illegible] "Bison" himself much [illegible]. [illegible] conduct was regarded as so [illegible]ing and discreditable that on the [illegible]mendation of the academic board he [illegible] refused a commission in the army. He [illegible] heard of three times after leaving the [illegible] at Galveston. There he had a [illegible] with some desperadoes and was [illegible] leave. He was next seen on one of the C[illegible]fornia steamers going up the [illegible]. He got into an altercation with the [illegible] the steamer and was placed under guard [illegible] in the hold and made to work. The [illegible] and last time, as far as I know, he was [illegible] and recognized under the following [illegible]stances. In 1858, about ten years after "B[illegible]" had graduated, Lieutenant Ives, of the [illegible]graphical engineer corps, was [illegible] making an exploration and survey of the Colorado river, emptying into the Gulf [illegible] California. While engaged in this work he would quite often leave his boat in the [illegible]noon and go on the shore and bivouac till morning. On one of these occasions a [illegible] of Mojave Indians came into his camp, [illegible] after talking some time in Spanish the [illegible] said in English, "Ives, do you know me?" [illegible] lieutenant was startled at hearing his [illegible] called so distinctly in English by this [illegible] and painted-faced chief. He replied [illegible] he did not, and asked the [illegible] where he had learned to speak English so well. The chief replied, "Never mind that, but do you know me, Ives?" The lieutenant scanned closely the huge painted chief, with feathers in his head, rings through his [illegible] and ears, and again answered that he did [illegible], and again asked the chief where he had [illegible]ed English and how did it happen [illegible] knew him. The chief replied that he did [illegible] wonder at his not knowing him, as his [illegible] in habits, dress and appearance was [illegible]able, and then he added: "I am B[illegible]. [illegible] were together at West Point. I have, [illegible] this little party, been watching you for [illegible] days. My band wanted to kill you and [illegible] little party, but I told them we had better [illegible] and see and try and talk, that we might [illegible] better than kill you. I have made them understand that after you have left and gone back trade will spring up and we can then do better by trading or robbing boats loaded with goods and supplies of all kinds." The Indians retired and were seen no more, nor did Ives ever bivouac on land any more. A [illegible] or two before this Capt. Lyon, killed in the late war, had a desperate fight with the Indians on an island in Colorado river. The Indians are supposed to have been com[illegible]ed by "Bison." He was successful for years in raiding on settlements extending as far off as Arizona. It may be, and I think it probable, with the settlements extending from west to east and the Indian area diminishing [illegible]stantly, that this Indian chief may have gone as far north as the Black Hills, and may be even the veritable Sitting Bull, for to a close observer Sitting Bull has shown as much skill and judgment as any educated, civilized soldier could have done. It would not be stra[illegible] if Sitting Bull proves to have been educated at West Point, and it seems to me probable that such is the case.

REFORMATION.—Ben Tasker appeared on the street recently dressed up in his Sunday suit, carrying a very clean looking child on each arm. He told our reporter that he had reformed and did not mean to steal half as many horses in the future as he used to formerly. "Well, how happens it, Ben," was the inquiry, "that you are dressed up and are loaded down with children?" "Oh, you see," was the reply, "I've sold out the north end of Jordan Range to Brother Jones, the deputy sheriff, and have been and got my endowments to-day. Them two gals you see over thar across the street all dressed up in white, have been sealed to me, and that makes the children all right. I'm in polygamy now."—Salt Lake Tribune.

A bridge across the Santiam between Albany and Scio is getting to be an absolute necessity.

FRIDAY MORNING AUGUST 18 1876

LET US HAVE PEACE

Congress has at last adjourned at last. The noisy brawling which has filled the halls of the capitol will be transferred for a time to the hustings, where it will shock the sensibilities of decent people far less than in what should be the grave councils of sober men concerning affairs of state. For some time the Congress of the United States has been little more than an arena for partisan strife. Many of the debates in both branches have been simply the sparring of stump orators in a party campaign and much that has been said and recorded as a part of the proceedings of the representatives of the greatest republic on earth met in that place where the partisan should be lost in the statesman has been marked with all the rudeness, the coarseness, the unfairness and the demagoguery of the lower order of stump speeches. Perhaps this practice of converting the national legislature into an amphitheatre for the political bulls of Bashan to gore each other in, has sanction of long continued precedent. We do not recollect about that and as it would require a dismal journey through the Congressional Record and Globe to ascertain the truth of the matter, and the knowledge would be of no importance we pass over the point with the observation which we think none will dispute, that no usage howsoever long continued could make the practice respectable. If it has always been the rule, it is still a rule which would be more honored in the breach than in the observance and if it is one of the many inventions which have been sought out in these latter days to degrade the nation in the eyes of the civilized world, it ought never to have been, and having been, it ought not longer to be. Old or new, it should be abandoned forever. The bestiality of Proctor Knott's cowardly assault upon Blaine, during the absence and illness of that gentleman, was a fitting climax to the sort of discussion that had been going on in the House of Representatives, and the universal disgust with which the country has responded to that exhibition of brutality is a suitable funeral for the vicious custom. Then let it rest, and let the Congress of the United States henceforth bear itself with the dignity and decorum due to the Republic and the memory of the great men who shed luster on that body and on the name of America, by their lofty eloquence and their sterling virtues, in days gone by.

IMPROVED STOCK IN OREGON

One of the arguments often urged in favor of breeding fine stock is that it costs no more to raise a fine animal than a poor one. This is true, but it is not the whole truth. The fact, as shown by the experience of breeders is that it costs less to breed fine than poor stock. An animal of good blood will mature more quickly and produce more beef or more wool and mutton from the same food and care than a scrub ox or a scrub sheep. We will give a case in point which may be verified at any time by any of our readers. On Mr S. G. Reed's stock farm at Reedville near Hillsboro are two calves of the same age, one a full blood shorthorn, the other with only one cross of good blood. These two animals have always been kept in the same enclosure and fed from the same box. In all respects their treatment has been good and exactly alike. What is the result? The full blood is very much larger and every way finer than the other. No one would take them to be the same age or if assured of that no one could believe their feed and treatment had been alike. As time goes on the difference in these two animals will increase, the full blood, with its inherited tendency to make flesh and fat will grow more rapidly than the other and at the age of three years will be bigger and fatter than the other will ever be. The full blood will be ready for the butcher and saleable at least a year before the other, both receiving the same food; the scrub will have to be kept and fed twelve months longer and will cost twelve months keep more than the other when ready for sale. Stock-breeders will appreciate the importance of having stock that will mature and be ready for market quickly. It enables them to turn over their money rapidly and make large gains when the rearing of scrub cattle would entail a loss or at least be productive of very small profit. The breed of cattle known as shorthorns is remarkable for this desirable quality. They have been carefully bred with a view to make them beef producers, and with such success that animals of a year old are frequently found that will weigh from twelve to fifteen hundred pounds gross. The beef from these animals is of prime quality. It is tender on account of the animal being young and of the best flavor.

But it may be said that stall feeding is requisite for these aristocratic cattle and that on nothing but pasture they would not thrive or do any better than scrubs. This is a mistake. While stall feeding is undoubtedly the best manner of making beef and also the most economical not only for shorthorns but for all kinds of cattle the shorthorns will nevertheless beat the scrubs on grass alone. Experience has demonstrated that the tendency to lay on flesh rapidly inherited by the shorthorn will show itself wherever the animal may be. Compared with scrubs treated the same way the shorthorn will always maintain its reputation.

The best herd of shorthorns in the State is to be found at Reedville where Mr Reed has collected a number of very fine animals of the best families and purest blood and at Mr Stewart's place in Yamhill. There are also other herds owned elsewhere in the State. The use of these animals by farmers cannot fail to be productive of great results. When the merits of such cattle come to be appreciated no wide awake farmer will be willing to be without shorthorn cattle for beef raising.

For the dairy some of the shorthorn families are very well qualified. They give great quantities of good rich milk [illegible] but the Ayrshires [illegible] superior to the shorthorns for [illegible] purposes. We [illegible] questions of this kind [illegible] whenever a large number of animals are to be kept for both beef and milk shorthorns are preferred. Where only [illegible] is to give milk [illegible] an Ayrshire or a Jersey would be better as the [illegible] There are a few Ayrshires and Jerseys kept in Oregon. Mr Reed and Mr Stewart have some very fine ones and there are others who keep them.

There is every reason why stockmen and farmers generally should encourage the introduction of such fine cattle. Poor beef is hard to sell but the fat young cattle will always command a ready sale at good prices. Butchers in search of beef will willingly give a few cents above the usual price per pound for superior cattle and thus fine steers can be disposed of when inferior could scarcely be sold at all.

In sheep the results of care and attention in breeding fine points are as striking as in cattle. Improved breeds of sheep pay well for the outlay necessary to secure them. Perhaps there is no branch of farming which is worthier the attention of Oregonians. Our mild climate and rich pastures seem to indicate this State as specially fitted for the production of wool and mutton. In the Centennial Exhibition Oregon wool like Oregon wheat is unrivaled. Wool growers from Australia, England and the continent of Europe were amazed when they saw our wools and eagerly inquired what kind of sheep we had. On being told they declared that with the same sheep and the utmost care and attention they could not produce such splendid wool. A great deal of the credit for this is due to the public spirit and enterprise of those gentlemen who have taken pains and spent money to introduce the best variety. Among these are Mr Wilkins of Lane county who has imported the new Oxford breed and Mr Davidson of Marion, Mr Jno Minto and Mr Guthrie of Polk who have turned their attention to Merinos and also Mr Reed whose fine Cotswolds are worth seeing. There are also many other gentlemen who are carefully attending to their sheep and to improving their blood.

It is quite unnecessary to descant on the merits of good horses. A Webfoot is a true son of Neptune in his love for fine horses and is as quick as any one to see and appreciate their good points. Hence as may have been expected there are a goodly number of breeding establishments in the State. Of these Five Oaks belonging to Mr Reed where Autocrat of Patchen blood and several other trotting horses of royal lineage and a noble gigantic Clydesdale are kept, Col Nesmith near Dixie in Polk county where there are both trotters and thoroughbreds, Mr Meyers near Albany in Linn county where there are some splendid Percherons and Mr Bigham's, east of the mountains are the principal. These establishments are worthy of being visited. At Five Oaks we saw just the kind of animal Oregon farmers need. It is a half breed Clydesdale. Although it is only a yearling, it is at least fifteen hands high, well and powerfully formed, with short legs, strong loin, deep chest and heavy quarters. Such animals as this colt promises to be, are admirably adapted for general farm work. Strong enough to perform any labor and active enough to travel on the road with ease, safety and sufficient speed.

There are many other things connected with this subject as the fruit enterprises of Mr Luelling, Mr Walling, Dr Watkins and others but to do so would require more space than we can just now spare. They also have done well and deserve praise.

Sitting Bull turns up now as the hero of a romance. His military prowess is the result of a thorough course of training at the West Point Military Academy and he is not an Indian at all but a white man who has got his temper roused and his face painted. The only respect in which he is less savage now than when he sky larked on the parade ground at West Point is his name. He was a Bison then, a roaring Bison we imagine, and now he's only a Sitting Bull. The whole story is as probable as that of Jules Verne's trip to the moon.

Caucus or no caucus—that is the question that agitates the Democratic mind in Oregon just now. The man who thinks he has a dead thing on a majority of the Democratic majority believes in the caucus system through and through, while all the possible candidates seeing how greatly the caucus would diminish their chances of being struck by lightning strictly maintain that the caucus is an invention of the devil.

Congress having adjourned it may be reasonably expected that Mr Congressman Lane will be in Oregon soon explaining to his constituents how he happened to vote for the repeal of the specie resumption act. He will have a pretty heavy task on his hands we opine when he undertakes to satisfy the people of Oregon that greenbacks are better than coin.

In the Pacific Christian Advocate of yesterday appears the salutatory of Rev J H Acton, the new editor of that paper. He is a ready and forcible writer and his first number gives evidence that he has put on the harness for work. We extend to him a cordial welcome to the field of Oregon journalism and hope he may realize his best hopes of success.

We hear influential Democrats denounce Mr Lane's action in voting to repeal the resumption act. It will cost him many a vote on election day. That will be no great loss to him however as Dick Williams would beat him anyhow.

THE DUTY OF OUR NEXT LEGISLATURE

PORTLAND Aug 17 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your views on the silver question in this morning's issue are correct and are strictly in accordance with common fairness, common justice and common sense. Our national obligations are by law payable in coin and now when gold has appreciated and by the same token silver coin has depreciated, by what greater moral right can the creditor claim payment in the appreciated coin than can the debtor claim the privilege to make payment in the depreciated coin? And while the scale thus hangs evenly poised as to moral claims the legal right which is on the debtor's side should determine the question. The letter of the law (as well as the spirit) will be fulfilled by a payment in silver and payments should be so made. And now upon this silver question, while Congress has adjourned without definite action, I suggest (in order that the vexed question may the more speedily be settled) that our next State Legislature should pass a law making U S silver coin a legal tender in payment of all debts. It has the undoubted right so to do for Congress was only given the right to coin money and regulate the value thereof and the States were only prohibited from making anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts, thus leaving with the States the original rights which they held as States [illegible]

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18, 1876.

CITY.

ESCAPED AND CAPTURED.—Two prisoners named respectively Gratz and Lone, who were serving out a sentence of three and five years for desertion from their company at Fort Canby, effected an escape last Tuesday. Lieutenant Jones and a guard captured them after they had been gone about four hours from the post, and took them back, and secured them so that they will probably never attempt another escape. The two prisoners were working in the kitchen at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and shortly after they borrowed (?) some bread and other edibles, and when unobserved, concealed themselves in an adjoining thicket, then worked their way toward Unity and stopped for rest at a spring near that place. Their escape was discovered at 5 o'clock, and pursuit was immediately given. Lieut. Jones discovered the tracks of the prisoners' shoes at the spring, and rightly presuming they would endeavor to get to Oysterville before night, he increased his speed and arrived at a residence down the beach some distance ahead of the deserters and made arrangements for their capture. He concealed himself, and after waiting some time he noticed a citizen approaching him, who stated that two soldiers had just arrived at his house and they had asked for two suits of citizens' clothes, and, suspicioning that they were the pursued soldiers, they were detained at the house until word could be sent to the officer. Lieut. Jones went at once to the residence, stepped up to the amazed [illegible]ters and said "Now, gents, if you're ready, we'll go back home." Two more [illegible] men than those prisoners there seldom have been seen. The guard came up in a short time, and the party returned with the [illegible] to the fort.

UNRAVELING OF A MYSTERY.—Yesterday forenoon when the Emma Hayward landed at Kalama, the sheriff stepped aboard and very quietly requested and obtained the company to shore of a young man, apparently of slight build, light complexion and prepossessing in appearance. But two or three persons noticed the affair, and nothing was said of the matter until after the boat had left Kalama and was pursuing her onward course, when it was whispered around that the said sheriff had received a dispatch from Astoria, ordering the arrest of a girl who had left that town on the [illegible] boat, dressed in male attire, and he complied with the instructions. It is said the girl had a partner aboard, but he was not noticed. The parents of the maiden resided in this city some time ago, but several months since removed to Astoria. The affair was quieted, and there seemed to be a mystery about it, and no one seemed able to give definite particulars.

A TERRIBLE FALL.—Mr. McDonald, a gentleman who has resided for some years in Portland and been engaged in the liquor business, met with a very severe and probably fatal accident a few days ago, while over on the Sound. Saturday morning, while McDonald was going ashore when the steamer Annie Stewart was lying at Olympia, he missed his footing and fell. In falling, he struck heavily on some portion of the wharf and cut a gash on one side of his throat. His jaw was also badly fractured by the violence of the blow. McDonald was removed to the hospital, and at last accounts was in a critical condition.

BOY HURT.—Yesterday afternoon a number of small boys were playing with fire-crackers in the western part of the city, when an unlooked-for accident occurred. The oldest boy in the crowd put a large fire-cracker under a can, and when it exploded the article was thrown up in the air, a piece striking one of the boys a sharp blow on the head, causing a severe wound. The injured lad was taken home and a physician summoned. The rest of the crowd will postpone further celebrating until the next Fourth.

M. E. CONCERT.—The Hall street M. E. Sunday school will give their last concert for the present conference year on next Sunday afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock. An excellent programme has been prepared. Rev. J. [illegible] Acton and others are expected to be present, and deliver addresses. Admission free, and every one is cordially invited to be present.

VERY UNCERTAIN.—Says the P. C. Advocate. A recent letter from Bishop Harris announces his expected visit here very uncertain. The Bishop will be detained sometime at the East looking after business pertaining to the church, and thinks it will be hardly possible to come here. We all greatly regret this, and still hope it may prove otherwise."

LECTURE.—Prof. Lavender lectured to a large audience, on the corner of First and [illegible], last evening: subject, "Speculative Theory of Freemasonry in regard to the origin of all things." He will lecture again this evening. Mr. Scheuneman Potts will deliver his last lecture at Turn Halle on Sunday [illegible].

TREASURE SHIPMENT.—Wells Fargo & Co.'s bank have shipped to San Francisco during the month of July the following treasure: Gold coin, $70,783 05; silver coin, $40,588 75, bullion, $40,325; currency and gold notes, $13,-[illegible] 85.

BOARD OF ENGINEERS ARRIVED.

The Board of Engineers of the Pacific coast left San Francisco on the coast survey steamer Hassler, for the purpose of examining the various harbors between San Francisco and the mouth of the Columbia river, in connection with locating a harbor of refuge. The Board visited the following harbors: Drake's bay, Mendocino City, Shelter Cove, Humboldt bay, Trinidad, Crescent City, Mack's Arch, Port Orford and Point Gregory (Arago). The Hassler crossed the bar Wednesday about noon, and came up the river Thursday.

The object of the Board in visiting Portland is to examine and report upon Col. Wilson's project for the improvement of the Willamette and Columbia rivers from Portland to the sea, and to make such investigations in connection with those rivers as they may deem necessary.

The Board consists of Gen. Alexander, Col. Stewart, Col. Williamson and Col. Mendall. While engaged upon the Willamette and Columbia, Col. Wilson will become a member of the Board.

The Hassler is the regular coast survey steamer for the Pacific coast, and her officers, belonging to the U. S. navy, are as follows: Capt. Taylor, Lieut. Cutts, Lieut. Curtis, Lieut. Clover, Lieut. Wyckoff, Paymaster Redfield, Dr. Boone. Col. Mendall, of the Engineers, who was detained on duty in San Francisco, will be up on the Ajax.

The Board will be here several days and will make a full and careful examination of these rivers.

SIGNAL STATION.

The following letter was read before the Board of Trade at its last meeting and filed:

ASTORIA, Aug. 14, 1876.

To the Portland Board of Trade: As chairman of your committee on shipping, I have been investigating more fully for the proper point for a signal station, and in consequence of there being no appropriation made by Congress the present session for a cable from Cape Hancock to Astoria, I have come to the conclusion that for the present at least, it is best to have preparations made for signaling and reporting vessels from the lighthouse at Point Adams. This point is the nearest to the course of all vessels as they approach the bar to enter the south channel—the channel now run principally—and commands an excellent view of the bar, the open sea and Tillamook head. By close examinations of the soundings lately taken, as well as the former surveys, it will be seen that vessels can come in quite as close to be signaled as to the lighthouse at Cape Hancock. The greatest advantage of this point, however, is the ease with which telegraphic communication can be established with the wires at Astoria. The distance on a direct line from Astoria is probably some seven miles; but by following the meanderings of the shore line and crossing Young's river with cable one-half mile in length, a wire can be put up that will not be endangered in the least in the most violent storms. The cost of such a line would be about as follows: Ten miles land wire complete $100, $1,000; one-half mile cable, $500; total, $1,500. Should we add $500 for instruments and incidentals, the sum would still be a trifling one to raise either by State appropriation or by private subscription.

Col. Kempff, the lighthouse inspector of this district, has been kind enough to accompany me to the lighthouse and designate a very desirable spot to erect a staff. I would recommend that you order the staff erected at once at Point Adams lighthouse, and order from San Francisco the largest size signals, 6x8 feet, of both the Marryatt's and International codes, as well as the books, and some measures be taken looking to the erection of a telegraphic wire from Point Adams lighthouse to Astoria. The cost of the staff will be about $30 and should be about 80 feet above ground, so as to be free of the dark background.

LETTER FROM GOV. GROVER.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade held on the 13th of July, the following proceedings were had:

On motion of Hon. Henry Failing, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the governor of the State be and is hereby respectfully asked to appoint a committee from Oregon to meet the Portland railway committee and accompany them or their sub-committee to San Francisco, to meet Mr. Huntington and other directors of the C. P. railroad as to the terms on which we may expect from that company railroad connection.

Mr. Green moved that the whole matter be referred back to the railroad committee, with instructions to appoint a sub-committee, who will, along with a committee appointed by the governor, meet Mr. Huntington and other directors of the C. P. R. R. in San Francisco; carried.

Mr. Reid, the secretary of the board, forwarded the above resolution to Gov. Grover, with an accompanying letter. The following is the answer received, which was read before the Board Wednesday evening:

SALEM, Aug. 9, 1876.

WM. REID, Secretary of the Board of Trade—Sir: As the Board of Trade have been for some time in correspondence with the Central Pacific Railroad Company relative to proposed connection with Oregon, in reply to your letter of yesterday I will say that it appears to me more proper that the correspondence continue as before until a final proposition be reached, especially as the executive is part of the legislative organization which will have to act upon such final proposition. Very truly your obedient servant.

L. F. GROVER.

PERSONAL.

Rev. T. L. Eliot is at present sojourning in London. His address is McCalmont Bros. & Co., No. 15, Philpot Lane, London.

Rufus Mallory, Esq., U. S. District Attorney, is now at Fort Klamath engaged in trying the man Queen, who is at present confined in the guard house for shooting an Indian.

Mr. Simon Harris writes from Philadelphia under date of August 6th as follows: "I have been having a good time, however one tires of seeing too much. I shall likely leave here next week for the Pacific coast."

Hon. H. W. Corbett arrived in this city Wednesday evening overland from San Francisco. He was accompanied by his estimable wife. They have been on a protracted visit East, and return in excellent health and spirits.

C. W. Parrish, Esq., at one time County Clerk of Multnomah, and for some years a practicing attorney in Portland, is now living in Canyon City engaged in the law business. "Colonel Charles" has many friends here who heartily unite in wishing him all manner of prosperity.

Last evening the door of our sanctum swung on its hinges and Samuel B. Parrish, Esq., strode in upon us in a most unceremonious manner. He is just down from the bunch grass regions of Eastern Oregon where he has recently acquired extensive mining interests. "Samivil" looks as brown as a berry, rugged as a trapper, his face has the same jolly look and his hearty laugh has lost none of its ring. He will remain in the city some days.

ADJOURNED MEETING, AUG. 17, 1876.

The common council met at 8 o'clock P. M., pursuant to adjournment, His Honor Mayor J. A. Chapman presiding.

The committee on ways and means reported back the ordinance to supply deficiency in the Centennial celebration fund, recommending that the blank be filled with the sum of $1,750 and that the ordinance pass. On motion the report was adopted. The ordinance was then taken up and the blank therein filled with the sum of $1,750.

On motion Mr. H. D. Sanborn was then invited within the bar, and made an explanation in regard to the work of the Centennial committee, and the various expenses which were incurred in the celebration. His explanation seemed to be satisfactory, but the council appeared loth to do anything further in the matter, and it was dropped for the time.

MORE APPOINTMENTS REJECTED.

A communication from his honor, the mayor, was read, announcing the appointment of L. Besser as city assessor, S. C. Simpson as city attorney, and P. W. Davis as superintendent of streets.

A motion to proceed to a vote on the above appointments was carried.

On motion to confirm the appointment of L. Besser as assessor, the vote stood: Yeas—councilmen Andrus, Lambert, Skidmore, Stemme 4. Noes—councilmen Catlin, Corbett, Harrington, Stephens, Wiley 5. So the appointee was declared rejected.

On motion to confirm the appointment of S. C. Simpson as city attorney, the vote stood: Yeas—councilmen Andrus, Lambert, Skidmore, Stemme—4. Noes—councilmen Catlin, Corbett, Harrington, Stephens and Wiley—5, and the appointment was declared rejected.

On motion of councilman Wiley the council took a recess of ten minutes.

ASTORIA ITEMS.

PROCTOR KNOTT'S ATTACK ON BLAINE

What an impartial, or at least a non-partisan, observer thinks of the attack of Proctor Knott on Blaine on the 3d instant, when the latter was absent from the House on account of his illness, can be seen in this from the N. Y. Tribune of next morning:

The Hon. Proctor Knott of Kentucky made a finish of himself in the House yesterday. Mr Blaine had left but little of him in his passage at arms on the floor relative to the Caldwell dispatch some weeks ago, but what little remained Mr. Knott himself made way with yesterday. Where only yesterday was a Knott, regarded by himself apparently as a very tough and well-seasoned Knott, and at times on account of his brilliance a pine knot, to-day there is, for all practical purposes, so far as character, position and influence are concerned, only a Knott hole. Knott has dropped out. He can hardly be said to have been punched out. He shrunk up, loosened, and rattled out himself. In his first encounter with Mr. Blaine he had been so severely handled as to arouse compassion; the spectacle he made of himself yesterday excited only feelings of contempt and disgust on the part of his audience. With a committee report under consideration which was intended to exonerate him of blame and restore him as it were to the good graces and the confidence of his fellow members—a report which had been signed by all the members of the committee regardless of party, and would have been adopted by the House without discussion or dissent—this man contrived to put himself in such an attitude in the course of an uncalled for and indecent speech of an hour and a half as to turn the whole sentiment of the House against himself, compel his party friends to withdraw the report in his favor, disgust all who listened to him, and make of himself a most humiliating spectacle before the country. Congress has not been lacking in scenes which have brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of self-respecting patriots. American citizens have had occasion before this to hang their heads in mortification at the performances of some of their representatives, but this exhibition of Mr. Proctor Knott was, for coarse and cowardly abuse, low and mean insinuation and misrepresentation, total disregard of propriety and decency, vindictive malice and deliberate brutality, beyond anything ever witnessed in that line.

No wonder his own party friends were ashamed of him. No wonder that the report of the committee was recommitted, so that the gentlemen composing it could have an opportunity of reviewing their opinion of Mr. Proctor Knott upon his own exhibition and illustration of himself. And no wonder that Messrs. Frye and Hale and Hoar felt called upon to administer a deserved castigation to him. It was not merely a breach of decorum or violation of the rules of ordinary courtesy, or a sudden outburst of passion in bad taste and worse temper. It was something much worse than this, for it was deliberate, cold-blooded, revengeful, with nothing in the occasion, the circumstances, the time, or the place to excuse or palliate it, but everything rather to aggravate its indecency and meanness.

A story is going the rounds that John Jacob Astor and A. T. Stewart met at the River Styx and had some trouble with the ferryman about getting across, whereupon Mr. Stewart advised that they hold on a little as Vanderbilt would be there pretty soon and start an opposition line; then they would get through cheaper.

"If there's no moonlight, will you meet me by gaslight, dearest Juliana?" "No, Augustus, I won't; I'm no gas meter."

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. Parson's Purgative Pills are free from all impure matter, and are mild and health giving in their operation.

At this season of the year cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, etc., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family. Used internally.

SOMETIMES A COLD WILL NOT YIELD to ordinary remedies, because of the severe inflammation of the delicate lining of the tubes through which the air we breathe is distributed to the lungs. This condition produces Pain and Soreness, Hoarseness, Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Hectic Fever, and a Spitting of Blood Matter or Phlegm, finally exhausting the strength of the patient and developing very serious disease. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant seldom fails to remove these symptoms, by relieving the lungs of all obstructing matter and healing all soreness. Pleurisy, Asthma and Bronchitis are likewise cured by this standard remedy, and the reputation it has maintained for so many years affords the best guaranty of its merit.

THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Suggestions to our legislature appear to be in order. I have the good or bad fortune to reside in what may be called a country school district and in common with most of my neighbors am anxious to see an improvement in the character and quality of our schools more especially of our country schools. True they are considerably better than they were a few years ago, but there is still much room for improvement. I think the legislature would remove what appears in canvassing the matter with my neighbors to be some of the chief obstacles to progress in this direction by enacting:

First—That at the annual school meeting in April, the presiding officers of each district shall cause a vote to be taken on the number of months school shall be held during the ensuing year in that district.

Second—That the directors shall levy a tax for such sum as with the public funds likely to be available, will be sufficient to maintain a free school for the number of months voted for as provided above.

Third—That the assessment and collection of the tax above provided for shall devolve on the county officers, and be collected with other taxes, and the proceeds when available handed over to the clerks of the respective districts.

These provisions I think will have a good effect in this, that it will bring the matter to the attention of the qualified voters of every district at each annual meeting, and will tend to secure a fuller attendance at such meetings, and while it will not in any way conflict with the local government and management of the schools, will be likely to secure in a great many districts an immediate advance by compelling those who favor an improvement to declare themselves.

The third provision appears to be necessary, because no man in the country likes to undertake the forcible collection of a tax from his neighbor, and because, personal enmities and neighborhood strife are liable to be excited in the effort to do so, and because its collection is more likely to be resisted when committed to neighborhood hands than when in the hands of men who make a business of it, and who represent the majesty of the county or State rather than that of a neighborhood.

A change in the time for annual meetings might also be made with advantage to the country districts. They are now held during the busiest season of the year. A much larger attendance could be obtained in either January or May.

Hoping that this communication may be the means of awakening an interest in this important subject, I remain respectfully yours,

A. WHEELER.

A [illegible]

The following poem by A J Munby [illegible] [illegible] English poet [illegible] most beautiful things we have seen in years. It is [illegible] exquisitely sweet natural [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] tain word of the first stanza [illegible] with the corresponding words in the second and so on with the third and fourth [illegible]

I sat with Doris, the shepherd maiden
Her crook was laden with wreathed flowers
I sat and wooed her through sunlight wheeling,
And shadows stealing, for hours and hours

And she my Doris whose lap incloses
Wild Summer roses of rare perfume
The while I sued her kept hushed and hearkened
Till shades had darkened from gloss to gloom

She touched my shoulder with fearful finger
She said We linger we must not stay
My flock s in danger my sheep will wander
Behold them yonder—how far they stray!

I answered bolder Nay, let me hear you
And still be near you and still adore
No wolf nor stranger will touch one yearling,
Ah! stay my darling, a moment more

She whispered, sighing There will be sorrow
Beyond to-morrow, if I lose to day
My fold unguarded my flock unfolded
I shall be scolded, and sent away

Said I, replying, " If they do miss you,
They ought to kiss you when you get home
And well rewarded by friend and neighbor
Should be the labor from which you come

"They might remember, she answered meekly
"That lambs are weakly and sheep are wild
But if they love me, it's none so fervent
I am a servant, and not a child

Then each hot ember glowed quick within me,
And love did win me to swift reply
"Ah! do but prove me, and none shall blind you
Nor fray, nor find you, until I die "

She blushed and started, and stood awaiting
As if debating in dreams divine,
But I did brave them—I told her plainly
She doubted vainly, she must be mine

So we twin hearted, from all the valley
Did chase and rally the nibbling ewes
And homeward drove them, we two together
Through blooming heather and gleaming dews

That simple duty from grace did lend her—
My Doris tender, my Doris true
That I, her warder, did always bless her,
And often press her to take her due

And now in beauty she fills my dwelling—
With love excelling, and undefiled
And love doth guard her, both fast and fervent—
No more a servant, nor yet a child

The week which we have specially under review at this time, has been devoid of any exciting topics in financial or commercial circles, having been perhaps about as dull as any week in the dull season. The monetary situation is easy, with a [illegible] more decided tendency to the accumulation of funds in order to meet the anticipated demand of the grain movement when it shall begin. The exportation of wheat from California has been [illegible] [illegible] large for the time that has [illegible] the harvest. Operations in this State appear to be going forward very slowly, and shippers [illegible] to be making their preparations for the season [illegible] with a great deal of deliberation. This backward condition of things with regard to breadstuffs, and the decline of the call for funds from the wool trade and the fisheries serve to materially [illegible] the requirements now being made upon the [illegible] resources of the country and make holders of loanable capital a little more anxious to find [illegible] opportunities for investments. The [illegible] and terms of loans and discounts prevailing [illegible] not materially changed for some weeks.

Though the complaints made by some might produce the belief that times are harder and "business duller" in Oregon than anywhere else we are [illegible] by those whose travel the present season has extended to all the most important business [illegible] in the United States, that such is far from being the case. On the contrary the depression is not so serious here as at many other points. [illegible] is the fact stated that at no time in twenty years has the prostration of commercial [illegible] in the great trade centers of New York [illegible] and Chicago been so general as this year and one gentleman who is a good business man and a careful observer says. "It seems from the way in which trade has suffered in New York and Chicago that the whole community would be driven to bankruptcy." Though this view is too desponding there can be no doubt that with all our disadvantages the Pacific coast is in a better condition as to her commercial progress than the rest of the country. It is a popular idea that this coast is the [illegible] sufferer by the peculiar phases which the silver question has assumed lately but it is a mistake. It affects all the marts of trade not only here but east of the Rocky Mountains and in Europe. The business community here may [illegible] more silver proportionately than those on the Atlantic coast, but they also handle a correspondingly larger amount of gold which is the only better kind of money

Miscellaneous.

The improved facilities for drying fruit and the good prices for the same will tend to a great increase of that business in Oregon this year

It is not thought that much wheat will be moved in Oregon before the first of September By that time it is probable that several vessels will be here ready to load The Titan St Andrews Castle Corsica and B G Reed are already in and the Warwick Castle Whistler and others are due The first [illegible] of the grain fleet last year cleared Sept 2d

The Oriflamme arrived at Liverpool last Friday with 2 000 tons Oregon wheat. This vessel left Astoria March 18th The only unreported wheat vessels from Oregon prior to July 1st are the Trojan Hindostan, Samuel Watts Dunnottar Castle Zephyr Ann Millicent, Chloe Thorndyke River Lune and Centaur

The ship Three Brothers has discharged 3 000 tons cargo at New York this week and next week will commence loading for San Francisco

The general tenor of reports received from the Willamette valley since the work of threshing fairly began is to the effect that the wheat crop is of splendid quality though in several sections the yield is hardly as great as was expected

The ships Storm King and India now 100 and 102 days out from Liverpool respectively have cargoes of coal which will be discharged at Wilmington California. The Storm King will then come directly to Oregon to load wheat and the India will proceed off the port of San Francisco for orders either to enter or come here also to load wheat

Domestic Produce

Only in minor articles has there been any marked activity during the present week the movement of the wool clip having spent its force and begun to show signs that the bulk of the surplus has been marketed and the grain trade having hardly set in for the new season. The advance noticed in the English wheat market ten days ago has been very nearly offset by the decline since our last weekly review The latter movement was somewhat of a surprise to some who are generally well posted on this question here But few in the grain trade either as buyers or exporters expected any marked reduction of [illegible] most of them thought the quotations of [illegible] to sell [illegible] about as high a figure as Liverpool [illegible] this fall But very few were prepared [illegible] the decline so soon, and made its influence [illegible] the local market has [illegible] [illegible] per cental which is the quotation [illegible] actual transactions being so limited [illegible] are merely nominal Flour is rather [illegible] general way but the leading brands [illegible] our former quotations Oats are still in light [illegible] those coming to hand being generally taken at slightly advanced rates to supply the local trade Hay and mill feed are in fair supply at [illegible] quotations Dairy products are in good demand [illegible] of choice quality both for the local trade and for shipment Provisions are [illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] downward tendency [illegible] wool market [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] during the week at 18 cents Other staple products are generally in abundant supply at [illegible] [illegible]
